Exposé for Master’s thesis

Prof. Dr. Maik Wolters

Please prepare your exposé according to the checklist below. The exposé serves as a basis for the supervision of your Master’s thesis and should comprise max. 2 pages. Please make sure in advance that your topic matches the research interests of the Chair of Monetary Economics and International Financial Markets. The more detailed and extensive your exposé is, the easier it is for us to provide constructive feedback. Your exposé should contain the following information:

Personal details:
Family name, first name, matriculation number, email address, semester, specialization area

Content:
Working title, research question, methodological approach (e.g. literature overview, statistical/empirical approach, model simulation set-up), tabular outline of your thesis, literature

Scientific background:
Which courses of our chair (or the Chairs of Prf. Bofinger and Prof. Mayer) have you attended and/or passed throughout your Master studies? Which other courses related to empirical data analysis have you attended and/or passed?

Timing:
Planned date of submission/resp. latest date of submission – keep in mind that the exposé needs to be discussed with us before official thesis admission