

Location Würzburg

Together we develop the first artificial intelligence for B2B procurement helping purchase managers to achieve sourcing savings, to identify new innovative suppliers and to secure the whole Supply Chain against risks until Tier 4. Our clients are mainly OEM's from automotive and mechanics and producing industries with global networks.

Python Developer with focus on data processing (m/f)

JOB TASKS

- You maintain and improve our data pipeline
- You research and implement data sources
- You build feature extracting models
- You support the integration of data with the backend of our application
- You are close to the end customer to understand their needs

You will support us in data processing using pandas, scraping, extracting the features from the website content, merge data from different sources and build machine learning models to extract features

BENEFITS

sports and a lot of fun

stylish office

free snacks and drinks

international team

flexible working hours

lightning development

QUALIFICATIONS

- You have a solid background in data processing and scraping (with min. 3 years)
- You worked with Python for at least 2 years
- You have hands-on experience with machine learning
- You also have a basic knowledge of web development
- You are characterized by being a team player with the demonstrated ability to work in a collaborative environment
- You have a high class command of English; additional languages are a plus

CONTACT

scoutbee GmbH

Team HR: Verena
Max-Planck-Straße 7/9
97082 Würzburg

phone: 0151-40754737

email: comeonboard@scoutbee.com

 _scoutbee_

 scoutbee GmbH